

FARM WELLS MILES AWAY ARE AFFECTED

WILL RECOVER AFTER HEAVY PUMPING OVER,
CHAIRMAN THINKS

DELEGATION APPEARS

"Apparently what has been your good fortune has been our misfortune," Joshua Stickwood, Bogartown farmer, told the town council on Monday evening.

Speaking on behalf of five farmers, Mr. Stickwood said that their wells had stopped flowing with the town's big strike of water at Cotter St. There was still water in their wells but the surface level had dropped rapidly. Some of the wells affected are miles away from Cotter St.

Those present besides Mr. Stickwood were Sanford King, manager of the Pickering College farm, G. A. Penrose, Joseph Sheridan and Ed. Johnson. Some of the farms had more than one well, and several of the wells had been flowing for over 40 years.

Mr. Penrose's well showed a drop of 24 feet and Mr. Johnson's a drop of 40 feet.

"I don't want financial help but I thought your engineers could come over and see if there is something that could be done to get water," said Mr. Stickwood.

"I could hold out one hope for you," said Deputy-Reeve Joseph Vale, a member of the water and light committee. "For ten days we have been test-pumping and took out the maximum. In ten days we took out 12,000,000 gallons of water. Did your wells improve when we stopped pumping?"

Mr. Stickwood was unable to say.

"It would appear that the well is going to be stabilized at a much greater quantity than the town requires," Mr. Vale said.

"We had the same trouble after the Strigley St. well was drilled," said Reeve Fred A. Lundy, "but the wells have come back."

"Have you come to any thought about what you are going to develop the well to?" Councillor Frank Bowser asked the committee.

"It's a little soon," said Councillor A. D. Evans, the chairman. "We may be using only 300 gallons a minute. I don't think Mr. Vale is quite correct when he says we have taken your water and there is nothing we can do about it. We don't know yet that we have taken it."

Sanford King stated that they had thought it best to tell the council at once about the effect on their wells.

"You had flowing wells and now they're not?" said Dr. Dales.

"Yes," said a member of the delegation.

"Our well is not a flowing well and never will be," said Mr. Vale. "The water is brought out by pumping."

"My well has gone down to 30 feet," said Mr. Johnson. "It was 70 feet."

Mayor Dales promised that the council would ask T. L. McManama, of the International Water Supply Co., to visit Mr. Stickwood's farm and help the farmers in any way that he could. Mr. Evans was confident that they would have water after the new Newmarket well is stabilized. He said that the town might take only 300 gallons a minute from it.

Mr. Stickwood suggested that the town should cap any wells that they weren't going to use. Dr. Dales said that the Green Lane well would be capped.

YOUNG NURSE DIES AFTER DAY'S ILLNESS

Taken ill on Monday and rushed to a Toronto hospital on Tuesday, Doris Eileen Riddell, 20-year-old Georgina township girl, died Tuesday night.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmot Riddell of Virginia. She had been in training as a nurse at Toronto East General Hospital for a year and a half until March, when she gave up training due to illness. She was better and was working as a nurse in Sutton at the time of her sudden fatal illness.

She had graduated from Sutton high school before entering training as a nurse. Besides her parents, she leaves a brother, Bert, Virginia, and two sisters, Mrs. Lloyd Smith (Flossie) and Mrs. J. H. Wesley (Jean), both of Newmarket.

The funeral service will take place on Friday afternoon at her parents' home, with interment in Briar Hill cemetery, Sutton.

HYRDO BILL IS NEW RECORD

The Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission account of $3,931, which the town council approved for payment on Monday evening, constituted a record for the town.

This account was for May, and exceeded the previous record consumption month, July, 1939, when the bill ran to $3,925.

May's high consumption was accounted for by the hot weather at the end of May, when householders switched from coal to electricity for cooking, the considerable number of new householders in the town and the military camp.

"REPEATS" FIRST YEAR WHEN HE MOVES WEST

After an interesting winter spent in western Canada, 14-year-old Donald Cockburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Cockburn, returned home on Saturday. He spent eight months with his great-uncle and great-aunt, Mr. and Mrs. George McIrvine, at High River, Alta.

"High River is a town of 1,500 population," Donald told the Era. "I went to school there. There is an airport there now, with an elementary flying school."

Donald was born at High River. The H. R. H. ranch is some distance from High River. Donald and his older brother, Gordon, both saw the former Prince of Wales at High River when they were infants but they don't remember much about it now.

"I found the school system different," Donald said. "High school starts in Grade X out there. I had my first year of high school in Newmarket in Grade IX, and then when I went out there I was in first year of high school again."

"The school work is quite similar," Donald said. "The boys and girls seemed just about the same as the boys and girls here. The towns are smaller and the farms are a lot larger. You only have to have 3,000 population to be incorporated as a city."

"We didn't have much snow. There was good skating. The Chinook winds from the west would melt the snow as fast as it came. The temperature might be zero one day and 55 the next."

"You could tell the Chinook winds were coming by a dark arch in the west. You could always see the mountains."

SOFTBALLERS DEFEAT KETTLEBY BOYS, GIRLS

Office Specialty softballers defeated Kettleby Hillbillies 12-10 at Kettleby last night in an exhibition game.

The Kettleby team included a couple of girls. This was the first of a series of six games between the two teams.

Roy Keffer and Bob Doan pitched for the Kettleby team. Lorne Keffer and Bob Benville pitched for the Office Specialty.

Kettleby: Lois M., Sid R., Bob Doan, Alex. Brown, Aub. Doan, Ken Potage, Roy Keffer, Mabel Harris, Earl Gould.

Office Specialty: "Toddy," Bob Benville, O'Halloran, Mike Banks, Lorne Keffer, Osborne, Mel. Graham, Miller, Hellam.

Y. P. U. Summer School Is Being Held This Week

Camp Ahshunyoung, the Y.P.U. summer school sponsored by Toronto centre north and east rural prebys of the United Church, started on Monday at noon and ends this coming Sunday. The camp provides a real camping experience under ideal conditions, opportunity for enriching fellowship and a happy, healthy holiday.

The camp staff consists of the Rev. C. E. Fockler, Maple; recreation, Vera Hunter, Laskay; director, Muriel Macklin, Agincourt; music, Rev. R. V. Wilson, Mount Albert; business manager, Hilda Patton, King.

Four study courses are offered: Bible study, "Great Christian Teachings," led by Rev. R. V. Wilson; Young People's programs, led by Marian Burkholder, Queensville; worship committee in action, led by Rev. C. E. Fockler; missions, led by Mrs. H. J. Mullett, wife of one of Toronto conference's missionaries in China.

A day at camp includes: 7 a.m. rising, 7.15, morning dip, 7.40, morning watch, 8, breakfast, 9.15, study groups, 10.10, recreation, 10.45, swimming, 12.30, dinner, music appreciation, 2, rest period, 3, program arranged by camp council, 6, supper, 7, enrichment course, 7.30, campers, 8, varied night, welner roast, etc., 9.30, starlight groups, 10, taps.

REEVE THINKS QUEEN'S PARK TOO POWERFUL

CAN'T GET ANYWHERE
WITH MAIN ST. PARK-ING, SAYS MAYOR

DISCUSS SRIGLEY

Getting any agreement among the merchants about Main St. parking is just about hopeless, Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales told the town council on Monday evening.

N. L. Mathews, K.C., clerk and solicitor, told the council that before a new parking and traffic by-law for the town could be made operative it had to have the approval of the department of highways at Queen's Park.

"When we come to the point where Queen's Park is going to have control over our parking we might as well quit," commented Reeve Fred A. Lundy.

"Oh no," said Mayor Dales. "They have always approved our by-laws," said Mr. Mathews. "Doesn't it seem ridiculous that it should be submitted to Queen's Park?" suggested Mr. Lundy.

"They might get all sorts of by-laws in various places if they didn't do it," said Mr. Mathews.

When the discussion turned to traffic and parking on Prospect St., Councillor J. L. Spillette said that there would have to be an accident killing half a dozen people to secure action in making Strigley St. a stop-street before entering Prospect. Someone had made the suggestion that Strigley St. should be made a stop-street for traffic along Prospect St. Mr. Spillette said that Prospect St. motorists wouldn't see the signs.

Councillor A. D. Evans said that a good suggestion was to make Queen and Strigley Sts. one-way streets and from the camp, with traffic entering by way of Strigley and coming out Queen.

"We couldn't get people to go around," said Dr. Dales. "A few loads of gravel on Strigley will make it possible for cars to stop on the grade before entering Prospect."

FRIENDS DISCUSS RELIGION'S POSITION

Canada and Genesee yearly meeting of Friends met at Pickering College from Saturday to Wednesday. This was the 14th joint yearly meeting, the 75th Canada meeting and the 108th Genesee.

Letters of friendship were read from many other yearly meetings and visitors were welcomed from several yearly meetings which were nearer at hand. These came with inspiration and help to the most largely attended meeting in years.

An advancement committee was appointed with an objective of stimulating inter-visitation and a policy that the name implies.

Dr. Arthur J. Dorland, of the University of Western Ontario, London, was chosen presiding clerk for one year, and Dr. Chas. A. Zavitz, formerly of Ontario Agricultural College and for many years an aggressive and influential Friend, was given the newly created position of honorary clerk.

Dr. Dorland on Sunday evening traced in a masterly manner the historic relationship of church and state and referred specially to the situation resulting from the treaty of Westphalia in 1648, at which time religion became subject to the state in that the religion of the ruling monarch became the state religion. Repeatedly since then religion has been seen to be only theoretically free from state domination.

Other speakers included Mary Hoxie Jones of Philadelphia and Robert Leach of Pendle Hill (Friends graduate school in Pennsylvania). Miss Jones spoke at the morning devotions and also gave a very comprehensive report of the American Friends Service Committee.

Robert Leach led discussion groups and spoke to the young people on Tuesday evening. At this meeting Madam Lillian Jones was present and her singing was such that after the meeting she received many requests for other numbers. She sang several spirituals, each of which was deeply appreciated.

FORMER MARKHAM REEVE, J. A. MITCHELL DIES

J. Alexander Mitchell, former reeve and member of Markham township council, was buried at Dickson's hill cemetery on June 26. He died at his home at Ringwood. He was for more than 60 years an elder of St. James' Presbyterian church, Stouffville.

WILLIS RINK IS HIGH

C. F. Willis' rink took Dominion day honors at the Newmarket bowling greens. The rink consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Willis and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Murphy. Dunbar's rink, Monarch Park club, Toronto, was high for two wins, and Dave McDougall's Toronto rink was high for one win. Eight rinks participated. The men's and women's clubs are holding a mixed jitney tournament this evening at 7.15 o'clock sharp.

JOINS NORSE FLIERS

Gert Larsen marked his 18th birthday this week by joining the Norwegian air force in Toronto. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Larsen, Newmarket.

Infant Industries Start Production In Town Soon

TOWN COUNCIL MAKES SMALL GRANT TO COVER CLEANING

Newmarket's two new industries are about ready to start manufacturing. The Era learned from Deputy-Reeve Joseph Vale, chairman of the town's industrial committee.

Quinlan's have taken over the Dorland-Bender building on a lease with option to purchase. The town council voted $125 to this firm Monday evening in lieu of cleaning and repairs. The new firm has made extensive alterations.

Continental Paint Co. Ltd. will start to manufacture on Monday in the former Fildey & Gordon garage fronting on Main St., north of Huron. This company has purchased the building.

R.S.A. Corps Wins Ontario Bugle Band Championship

DOUBLE WATERLOO HONORS FALL TO NEW- MARKET BOYS

Thirty thousand people crowded the Waterloo park on Saturday for the annual band festival, the premier musical competition in Canada.

Newmarket this year was represented by only the R.S.A. bugle corps, and again the boys brought home the honors. Before the immense crowd the Newmarket band "copped" the top honors in class A, defeating the crack, much-publicized R.C.A.F. band from the Manning depot, Toronto. The Toronto press reported the result wrong, putting the Toronto band first.

Back the R.S.A. band came again in class B, to defeat Guelph Veterans and Elmira and to sweep the bugle band card for the competition.

Added to the band laurels came the solo honors, in which the blue and red boys pretty well swept the field again. In solo bugling, class A, Frank Burling defended his championship, defeating McRoy of the R.C.A.F. and McIntyre of the 48th Highlanders.

Class B saw McIntyre defeat Burling, who came second, with McFavish of the R.S.A. third. This was McFavish's first competition and he did exceptionally well against experienced competitors.

In the solo drumming, Jimmy Bradford of the R.S.A. "copped" both A and B divisions, with McIntyre second both times, and Jack Wright of the R.S.A. taking the third place in B competition.

The band took part in the street parade with all the other bands, but dropped out of the march-past and the pageant to give the boys a little time to enjoy themselves.

The honors the band won are really equivalent to a Canadian championship. Most people, if they have never been to Waterloo, can't realize the honor attached to winning at the festival. The fact of the boys winning is a real honor for the town and worth its weight in gold for advertising "the hub of North York."

WYATT MOORBY'S FATHER SUFFERS FRACTURED SKULL

Thomas J. Moorby, Sunderland farmer, and father of W. L. Moorby, North American Life representative at Newmarket, fell from a load of hay on Friday afternoon and fractured his skull.

He was unconscious several days and was taken to Toronto General hospital early Sunday morning. It is expected that he will be in hospital for a month.

Council Receives Courier Tomorrow

Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales and members of the town council will receive a proclamation, "Call to Arms," from an officer courier, at the flag-pole, Water St., tomorrow evening at 8 p.m. D.S.T.

Dr. Dales has received a letter to this effect from the minister of national defence, Hon. J. L. Ralston, and a wire setting the hour from Major-General C. F. Constantine, officer commanding M.D. No. 2.

The proclamation is addressed to "all true Canadians" and has reference to the recruiting campaign now in progress.

POINTS TO UNTIDINESS

On behalf of the Newmarket Horticultural Society, Sanford King called the attention of the town council at a meeting on Monday evening to wastepaper thrown or blown on the grounds about the waterworks beautified by the society. He suggested that a receptacle might be placed there for the use of the public.

FORMER PASTOR IS VISITOR

Rev. Dr. W. S. Alexander, former pastor of the Christian Congregational church, is a visitor in Newmarket this week. Dr. Alexander has retired from the ministry and is living on a small farm near Columbus, Ohio. His youngest son, Paul, is taking military training in the U.S. army.

WORKS IN BRADFORD

C. Fred Cunningham, Newmarket, has accepted a position with the Dorland-Bender Co. at Bradford.

MISSIONARY DIES, MEMBER OF TRINITY UNITED

A member of Trinity United church, Newmarket, Dr. Daniel Norman, retired missionary, died in London, Ont., on June 19, 77 years old.

Dr. Norman gave many years of active service in Japan, and since his return his membership was with Trinity United (and the former Methodist church), Newmarket.

SCHOMBERG LAD KILLED AS BICYCLE HITS TRUCK

Knocked off his bicycle by a truck as he entered highway No. 27, Carl Hilliard, 12-year-old Schomberg boy, died in St. Michael's hospital ten minutes after his admittance.

It is thought the boy failed to notice the truck and ran into its side and was thrown considerable distance by the impact, suffering a fractured skull and other injuries.

Dr. W. A. Wylie of Bolton was called to the scene and had the boy rushed in an ambulance to the hospital where he died without regaining consciousness.

Flea Beetle Damage Heavy, Cockburn Warns

Potato growers are reporting heavy damage to young plants from the potato flea beetle, a very small black beetle that works on both the upper and lower surface of the leaves. W. M. Cockburn, agricultural representative, stated this week. At a distance the plants for a time look fairly normal, but on close examination and especially when held up to the light have the appearance of being full of small perforations between the veins. Later the beetles puncture the veins and cause the tips of the leaves to die.

The flea beetle like the leaf hopper can be controlled by spraying or dusting with Bordeaux mixture, which acts as a repellent rather than a poison. Ordinary poisons having no effect. Agricultural Representative W. M. Cockburn is most emphatic in advising growers to dust or spray at once and both surfaces of the leaves must be thoroughly covered, as fully half of the beetles work on the under side of the leaves.

The Bordeaux mixture used for the flea beetles is the same preparation as is used for the prevention of late blight, adding poison only when the old familiar potato bug is present.

'NIGHT ERRANT' EASES FARM'S LABOR WORRY

NOVEL PLAN SAVES LABOR AND CROP FOR
POTATO GROWERS

FARMERS LIKE IT

While farmers in the Mount Albert district sleep at night, their potatoes are being swiftly and efficiently sprayed or dusted by a new 6-row tractor duster purchased and operated by Gordon Rynard of Zephyr.

Farmers who have contracted with Mr. Rynard to do this work have no worry about the job except the provision of dusting materials for a minimum of five applications.

Mr. Rynard works at night to take advantage of the dew and the lack of wind. He charges 50 cents per acre per application, with a minimum charge of $2 per application, and operates under a season's contract with the growers.

"Knowing that labor is short and that some haven't the machinery to do this work with, we thought of inducing some farmer to do the work on a custom basis," W. M. Cockburn, agricultural representative, told the Era. There has been no difficulty in getting customers.

Mr. Rynard will be able to do about 150 acres of custom work. He has 25 acres of potatoes himself. He has to go over all crops at least five times. The average farmer has a couple of acres of potatoes, while quite a few in the Mount Albert district have ten or 12 acres.

This experiment, inaugurated on Tuesday night when Mr. Cockburn and T. R. Hilliard, his assistant, were out to see Mr. Rynard at work, is the first of its kind in Ontario.

Many farmers are in the position of knowing that they should spray their potatoes for beetles and blight but aren't able to get it done in time, Mr. Cockburn said.

Mr. Rynard is taking on only a limited acreage, Mr. Cockburn explained, so that he will be able to keep up with applications as due in the event of unfavorable weather.

The duster uses only 15 lbs. to the acre. While Mr. Rynard works at night to take advantage of the dew, there is also now a more expensive dust that can be put on dry, Mr. Cockburn said.

Mr. Cockburn said that calcium arsenate or arsenate of lead is used for the potato bug (or Colorado potato beetle) and Bordeaux dust for late blight and the flea beetle, which has already done damage to plants this year.

NEW WELL WILL COST LESS THAN $20,000

Newmarket's new well is being rated at 500,000 gallons a day (that is, 350 gallons a minute), or considerably below its believed capacity, and will cost the town between $16,000 and $17,000, in accordance with the contract with the International Water Supply Co.

In addition, the town may have costs of another $1,000 for a building and connecting with the town mains, Councillor A. D. Evans, chairman of the water and light committee, stated today.

The contract price includes installation of a pump, which will have a pumping capacity of well over 400 gallons a minute, Mr. Evans said.

"The town will now have 500,000 gallons of water a day, in addition to its present 280,000 gallons, against a peak consumption for any one day of 350,000 gallons," Mr. Evans stated.

E. G. RED CROSS PLANS MONSTER GARDEN PARTY

Arrangements are being made for a garden party to be held in Sharon park on Friday, July 25. No effort is being spared to make this event a big success. The management committee, under the direction of J. S. Osborne, J. Parker and E. F. Ramsay, will look after various business items while the program, sports and refreshment committees are headed by Mrs. J. L. Smith, Queensville, Jas. Denne and Mrs. E. F. Ramsay, respectively. These will be assisted by well-known Red Cross workers throughout the township.

E. F. Ramsay has generously donated a registered Holstein calf, with which to raise money. The tea sponsored by Queensville Red Cross unit and held in Mrs. James Denne's home was a great success. The event netted the society $75.

A general meeting of all garden party committees and those interested will be held in Sharon hall next Monday.

Some Non-Residents Signed Beer Petition Mathews Reveals

Vote Is Set For Dec. 1, Municipal Voting Day,
Council "Rubber-Stamps" Necessary By-Law

There will be a vote in Newmarket on the beverage room question on Monday, Dec. 1, at the time of the municipal election if any.

The town council passed the necessary by-law on Monday evening.

"Pursuant to a resolution that was passed at the last meeting, I forwarded it to the Ontario liquor control board, and they have agreed to the request of the council that the vote be held on the same day as the municipal election," stated N. L. Mathews, K.C., clerk and solicitor.

"That will save the town quite a bit," Mr. Mathews said.

The by-law contained the question, "Are you in favor of the sale of beer and wine under the provisions of the Liquor Control Act?" A vote in favor of the sale of beer and wine will also make possible the establishment of a liquor store in the municipality.

Referring to a clause in the by-law, Reeve Fred A. Lundy asked what was meant by those qualified to vote in provincial elections.

"Those on Parts 1 and 3 of the municipal voters' list," Mr. Mathews answered.

"Non-residents can't vote," said Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales.

"All over 21 and resident 60 days?" asked Councillor A. D. Evans.

Evans.

"Yes, with certain exceptions," said Mr. Mathews. He said that their names would have to appear on the voters' list.

"Quite a number of people who signed the petition won't be able to vote," Mr. Mathews said. "Quite a few persons whose names appeared on the last provincial voters' list quite properly signed the petition but haven't lived here for the last two or three years and won't be able to vote on the question."

Councillor Joseph Vale showed his position by jocularly moving adjournment (there was no second order) when the by-law came before the council and later by suggesting that second and third readings be given at future meetings rather than immediately.

Councillor Evans, also known to be a beer room opponent, said that the council had no choice in the matter.

"You are in the same position as the governor-general when he is asked to sign a bill passed by parliament," said Mr. Mathews.

"What is the majority?" asked Mr. Vale.

"Three-fifths, that is three out of five voters, or 60 per cent," replied Mr. Mathews.

The sponsor of the resolution, Councillor Arleigh Armstrong, made no comment.

Citizens Pledge Loyalty To Church, State and Freedom

REV. DR. MUCKLE CON- DUCTS DEDICATION AT ST. JOHN'S

The members of St. John's parish renewed their pledge of loyalty and service to God and country at the close of a dedication service on Sunday.

Captain the Rev. Dr. W. D. Muckle, in a brief but direct exhortation, encouraged each member to make use of the means at his disposal to serve his country in this time of crisis.

Speaking to the soldiers present, he said, "You young men can serve your country by putting your heart and will into the work of training and preparing yourselves to meet the enemy on the battlefield, if necessary. This you will accomplish by obeying the rules of the camp and co-operating with the instructors. Those who do less are not doing their duty as loyal citizens."

To the workers and those who have financial means, he said, "You can serve by giving or lending dollars to your country to finance the training of young men for service, to purchase war equipment and supply the necessities for the men in service."

"The children can serve," continued Dr. Muckle, "by sincere and persevering prayer in company with their parents, that God may grant success to our armies and give us a victorious peace."

"Our cause is just. We are fighting an enemy that would rob us of freedom of speech, freedom of action, freedom of serving God as our conscience directs us."

"The solemn pledge, repeated aloud by all, follows in part: 'Blessed be God; blessed be His holy name; I believe, O Jesus, that Thou art the Christ, the Son of the Living God; I promise to give good example by the regular practice of my faith; I pledge my loyalty to the flag of my country and to the God-given principles of freedom, justice and happiness, for which it stands; I pledge my support to all lawful authority, both civil and religious.'"

Herb Cain, centre-fielder for the Town, got around to hitting his first home run of this season. The pill sailed a good 20 feet over the fence. Cain got two hits and three runs, Cunningham three hits and one run, VanZant two hits and a run.

Hooper and Gould hit well for the Office Specialty while Neufeldt got two of the runs. The Specialty task is a difficult one, since new players have to be recruited for nearly every game, and the team has not had a good practice so far this season.

Monday night's game was rained out.

A SENSIBLE DECISION

The beverage room beer vote becomes a certainty with the passing of the necessary by-law at a town council meeting on Monday evening. The question in the by-law refers only to the sale of beer and wine, and that is all that will appear on the ballot. The true question, however, on which the public will vote is: "Are you in favor of opening in Newmarket a government liquor store and as many beverage rooms as the liquor control board, from time to time, may decide?" In other words, if a three-fifths majority of people vote yes in answer to the beer and wine question, there will be nothing to prevent the establishment of a liquor store here too.

The vote will take place on Dec. 1, at the same time as the municipal election. That is sensible and will save expense. Credit must be given to Councillor Arleigh Armstrong, sponsor of the petition, and to the liquor control board for concurring in this sensible decision.

THE COMPLETE ANSWER

Prime Minister King's answer to those in Calgary who would conscript men for overseas service is, in our opinion, perfect: "If every man does his own duty first, before he concerns himself about the duty of his neighbors; if having done his own duty, every man tries to help his neighbor to reach a personal conviction of his duty, instead of wishing to compel him, Canada will have no need of conscription for overseas service and Canada will not be divided on any conscription issue."

WHY PEOPLE ARE ASKED TO EAT LESS BACON

When Britain wants munitions from Canada, the Canadian government secures them by paying the price. There is no call sent out to householders to stop buying refrigerators, stoves or automobiles, so that the government may get the necessary materials and labor cheaply. Instead, the government goes ahead and pays more for the materials if necessary and pays more for the labor if necessary. For instance, the government has contributed to the farm labor shortage and has even taken employees from other branches of the war effort by paying inexperienced youths 50 cents an hour, and 75 cents an hour for overtime, in its Toronto small arms factory.

But how does the government handle the food for Britain problem? Does it go into the market and pay a price which will secure the food it wants? Does it pay a price which will encourage the farmer to produce more? Oh no, that would be a fair deal for the farmer. Instead, the bacon board chisels down the already close price for hogs, forces the farmer out of hog production, and then the bacon board, in order to maintain shipments to Britain, must ask the public to stop eating pork.

The Canadian government should pay whatever additional price is necessary and out-bid the Canadian public in the open market for the pork it undertook to send to Britain. Any shortage now is due to government stupidity and lack of foresight. The farmer is just as much entitled to a bonus for his time as the boy working in a munitions factory.

More than that, our farmers could tremendously increase their bacon production, and they will not do so unless they get a better price. It is true that they are getting quite a bit more at the moment, but they should be getting the full market price which would result from buying competition between the Canadian public and the bacon board.

A MAGISTRATE ERRS

In Newmarket police court last week a motorist was prosecuted on information laid by a provincial police constable who was in civilian clothes at the time of the alleged traffic infraction. That is probably all right, for any citizen can lay an information against another citizen. The constable complained that he had been driving a car and that the motorist charged had crowded his car.

So far so good. But the other motorist had a complaint against the constable. He had not laid a complaint but when charged in court he naturally tried to tell the magistrate what the constable had first done to him. In view of the fact that the constable-motorist appeared in court as a constable, we think that the magistrate should have heard what the motorist charged had to say and then have questioned the constable as to its truth. Instead, the magistrate wasn't interested. In other words, he and the police have a common employer and they are standing together, right or wrong.

The motorist's story was to the effect that the constable (in civilian clothes) had gone against a red light and nearly caused the charged motorist to have an accident. Of course he may have been mistaken, but, angered, he apparently "cut in" without compunction in front of the constable-civilian when the occasion arose a little later.

The first incident apparently occurred in the city. The motorist said that he would lay a charge against the constable in the city.

Of course, we have been rather spoiled in Newmarket. We have had in Magistrate Woodliffe (temporarily absent from this court) a magistrate with unusual judicial gifts. A young man, he combines courage, fairness, mercy and knowledge in a high degree. The writer has seen many police court magistrates on the job and has "covered" quite a few different courts, but he doesn't remember any magistrate who made a better job of representing the crown.

The magistrate who handled the case last week is not a judicial type. He is a partisan, serving on the police court bench because of his excellent services on the hustings to the party in power at Queen's Park. He has undoubted ability, and would probably make an excellent defence lawyer, but from our own observation we would say that he lacks the judicial ability to see two sides to a story so essential in a good crown attorney or a good magistrate.

HE TOO HATES RUST HOST

In last week's Era there was reference to a Newmarket merchant who was devoting his Wednesday afternoon half-holiday to removing a common barberry bush from his lawn. His attitude was that if it hurt the farmers, it hurt him. This co-operative and public-spirited merchant was W. C. Lundy, one of the senior business men on Main St.

DOMINION DAY

Not all of us can be crusaders, or martyrs, but we can be thankful for those who do bring abuse upon themselves to pave the way for progress. Before men can do things differently, they must think differently, and before they can think differently, a few must think and speak differently. Rt. Rev. A. W. F. Blunt, Bishop of Bradford, England, is evidently one of those so-called "parlor pinks" who believes that our present economic organization will give way eventually to something better.

Bishop Blunt is quoted as saying that a new order must be built after the war based primarily and fundamentally on a new view of man as a person and not a mere cog in the economic machine. There must be a planned economy, under which the prime necessities of human life are no longer used as playthings for the private profit of individuals, the bishop believes.

So only can we abolish the outrages of poverty in the midst of plenty and chronic unemployment on a vast scale, he thinks. Inspiration for this new order must come from education and from religion but it will have to be a better education, for education by itself does not guarantee that man will make good use of it, and it will have to be a very much more self-sacrificing and thorough-going religion than has passed as Christianity.

It will have to be really Christian, continues the bishop, if it is to inspire anything like a passion to build the kingdom of God.

Clouds overcast our dominion as we mark the July 1 holiday this year, but they will disappear. Progress can be halted, but, with the heaven of Christianity in the world, it cannot be halted indefinitely.

MR. KING'S FORESIGHT

Before we will agree with the Kelowna Courier in the statement that "profiteering is out of the question," we would like to hear an explanation of the Brading brewery purchase in Ottawa.

First, in fairness, we will quote the Courier: "There is simply no possibility of anyone engaged in war business in Canada growing rich. The 15 per cent drop in the average price level of the stock market at the end of 1940, below that of 1939, is one proof that profiteering is out of the question. The reason for that drop is that the government has become so efficient in scooping up the profits for its own use, and taking, in most cases, not only all the new, additional profit, but also a larger slice of the normal profit. It is right that the government should follow this policy, and the public should know that it is being done. When people talk of war profiteering in a big way, of millionaires being made by this war, they do so either in ignorance of the facts or with the design of misleading and arousing the uninformed and gaining their political support."

There may be few millionaires being made, but there are thousands of people who are benefitting financially from the war. We are not speaking of farmers, you will guess. Some of our cities have never been so prosperous. In spite of the increased tax on gasoline there have never been more weekend motorists on Yonge St. A week ago Sunday evening the writer drove from the city to Newmarket. A picked-up soldier from the Niagara district, returning to Camp Borden, gasped at the traffic jam from Steele's to Richmond Hill and said that he had never seen so many cars on one highway before.

But we mentioned the Brading brewery purchase. The Brading brewery, with other buildings, is located on land which Prime Minister King thinks the government will some day need. The Brading brewery land was assessed at $16,075. Buildings on the land were assessed at $127,000. The owners had appealed this assessment as too high. The government of Canada, however, thought it low, and paid $550,000 for it.

Yes, the government in this war year is paying practically the full amount subscribed by Newmarket in the Victory loan for $16,075 worth of land for use for the future beautification of Ottawa. It's a piece with that C. N. R. station beautification of Montreal.

The Fort Erie Times-Review says: "Brading's Breweries is controlled by Canadian Breweries Ltd., of which Mr. E. P. Taylor is president. Mr. Taylor, it will be remembered, is also one of the government's dollar-a-year men, and assistant to Hon. C. D. Howe."

Hear Mr. King's explanation: "It was thought advisable, before all the property in the adjoining areas, and in that area itself, became enhanced in value in consequence of improvements being made by the government, that the government itself should acquire property for its use later on. The brewery referred to is in that particular area, and while there may be some who will be sorry it is going or gone, I imagine their number will not be great."

Mr. King's schoolboy joke shows how much his conscience bothered him about turning over half a million Victory loan dollars to those from whom party revenue tribute may be collected. Canada's prime minister, the most astute politician that we have ever had at the federal helm, foresees not only the beautification of Ottawa but the next election. In our opinion, Mr. King will win it.

THE YOUNG CHICKADEES START VOICE CULTURE

By RUTH DINGMAN HESS

"It makes me feel quite cheap when I think of it," murmured Merry Chickadee to Young Chips.

"When you think of what?" asked her mate, as he swung precariously upside down from a twig in a white birch tree.

"Our speaking to Mrs. Woody Woodpecker the other day about her children making such a noise," explained Merry. "We were so annoyed by that young one of hers making so much racket, and the very next day he left the nest. Of course, some of the rest of the children started in on the same shrill peeping then, but in two or three more days the whole family were out of the nest and had moved off into the woods. Yesterday I saw one of the parents flying by, followed by three fluffy looking, greyish youngsters."

"Yes, and now it's our own children who are disturbing the peace," added Young Chips. "They're just chattering all day long, learning our 'Chick-a-dee-dee' call. Naturally, none of them has got it perfect yet, but if I do say it myself, they're doing very well."

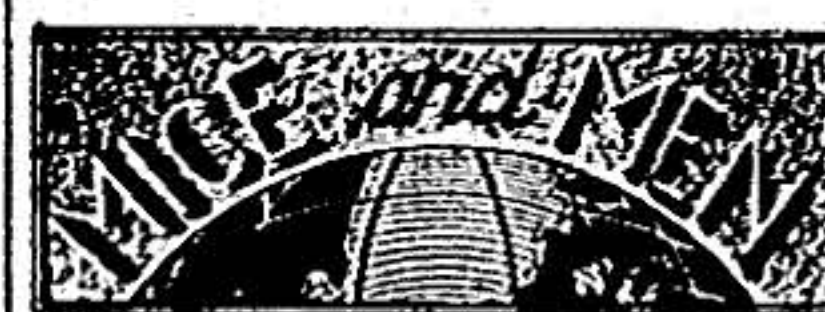

"Their tone is very good," agreed Merry solemnly, "although they haven't got all the syllables in yet."

"Here's Kitty Catbird," announced Young Chips. "Hello, Kitty, how are you and the family?"

"Splendid, splendid!" answered the slim, dark grey bird enthusiastically. "Our babies are ten days old now, and growing like weeds. It's a busy time for Tom Catbird and myself, however."

"You're hard at work hunting for food for your youngsters, but we notice you have time to sing and 'meow' quite a lot, too," Mrs. Chickadee told her. "Chips and I have had several frights since our babies have been out of the nest, when we heard that blood-curdling cat-call of yours coming suddenly from some thicket. When we stopped to listen, of course, we realized it was you."

"We'd much rather hear your lovely melody of song," said Merry. "Sing as much as you have time for, but don't 'meow'!"

"Oh, you folks are too nervous," laughed Kitty. "However, I'll try not to scare you any more than I can help. Oh, there's one of those impudent Robins over in the direction of our nest. I must chase him out of there. Good-bye!" She flew off quickly, a dark grey ghost.

"We'll probably hear some bad language from that Robin, when Kitty goes after him," remarked Mr. Chickadee. "Oh, there goes one of our Woodpecker friends flashing by. A Downy, I guess."

"No, it wasn't," Merry said quickly. "I noticed a flash of red on his head as he went by. You'd never notice that if a Downy just flashed by quickly. And besides, it was too big for a Downy."

"I'll go and investigate," stated Young Chips, and hurried after the Woodpecker. He quickly located the other bird high up on the trunk of a tall oak tree.

"Red crown, red throat, black breast, black and white back, wings and tail, yellowish underparts," he murmured to himself. "Yellow-bellied Sapsucker, of course, but I wouldn't have expected to see him here in the nesting season."

"Hello, Mr. Sapsucker!" called out the Chickadee. "I thought you always went farther north than this, away back in April. Now that you're here in June, it means you've a nest here, I suppose?"

"Yes, Mrs. Sapsucker and I have a family of young ones here this year," replied the pretty bird. "We thought we'd stay down south this year for a change. My mate was quite exhausted after coming this far north from our winter quarters, so we thought we'd just stay here instead of taking a longer trip."

"That's fine," said the Chickadee. "And now I must get back and tell Mrs. Chickadee about seeing you. She was wondering whom it could be flying past. We didn't think of you."

"There's a Cuckoo calling," Young Chips said to himself as he flew back to his mate. "I wonder whether it's a Black-billed or a Yellow-billed. I must look him up and find out. The Cuckoos are shy birds, in spite of the noise they make."

WHAT OTHERS THINK

PUTTING IT UP TO THE EMPLOYER

(Midland Free Press-Herald)

Hints given Canadian employers that they could help the recruiting campaign by employing older men and women instead of young men who should be in the armed forces will find instant response in most instances, provided employers are not asked to apply pressure to force enlistment. In hundreds of establishments throughout the country, all the way from banks, financial houses, wholesale firms, gasoline stations, plants which manufacture articles non-essential for defence, to retail establishments which sell them, are to be found young men with few if any family responsibilities who have to date failed to respond to the call for volunteers.

Most employers will be willing to make a practice of refusing to take on new young men who should be in the army, but it is scarcely fair to ask them to say to others already on the payrolls that they must enlist or be fired. That amounts to applying compulsion, and when a compulsory system is put into effect it must be nation wide and the government must take the full responsibility. Many a young man who is not in uniform doubtless honestly believes that the work he is doing is more essential to the nation's welfare than anything he could do if he enlisted. Employers who put their nation ahead of their own business will also feel that certain key men cannot be spared.

That is one more reason why a compulsory selective draft system is long overdue. Any employer or any employee could then put it up to the draft board to decide where the worker could serve best, and would make the best of the decision. At present both employers and those who work for them are subject to much undeserved criticism.

LARGEST SUBSCRIBER TO WAR LOAN

(Bowmanville Statesman)

In subscribing $120,000,000 to Canada's 1941 $600,000,000 Victory Loan, the life insurance business in Canada becomes the largest single subscriber to each of Canada's three war loans, having now made available to the government a total of $170,000,000 to help finance the purchase of tanks, planes, ships, guns and munitions.

In making this announcement respecting the Victory Loan, R. Leighton Foster, K.C., general counsel for the Canadian Life Insurance Officers Association, revealed that United States companies operating in Canada had co-operated to the extent of some $35,000,000.

He also pointed out that life insurance companies had not only given tremendous financial support to the Victory Loan campaign, but they had also made available their entire sales forces to canvass for the loan.

"Once again," stated Mr. Foster, "life insurance, holding in stewardship the savings of 4,000,000 Canadians and representing the last line of defence of 1,000,000 Canadian homes, has demonstrated that it is as vital an economic force in time of war as it is in time of peace. Today, millions of life insurance dollars are fighting dollars which are doing double duty; they are guardians of financial security of free men and women on the home front, while they are helping maintain our democratic way of life by aiding on the war front."

YORK COUNTY PEOPLE TAKE PART IN REUNION

The Shuttleworth - Deisman - Lapp families held their fourth annual picnic at Innisfil park, Cedar Harbor beach, Lake Simcoe, on June 21. The weather was fine and they had an exceptionally good turn-out.

Several American cousins from Pennsylvania were present at the reunion and many of the Canadian relatives came quite a long distance. Quite a number were there from Hamilton, Ont.

Prizes were awarded to the following persons: the oldest person present, Mrs. Emma Mills, Newmarket; the youngest baby, (one month old), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Caulfield, Toronto; the longest distance, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Harman, Wellsville, Penn., who came nearly 500 miles to be with their Canadian relatives.

Latest bride and groom of 1941, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brown, King City; largest family at the picnic, a tie between Mrs. Emerson Rear of Hamilton, and Mr. and Mrs. Sheridan of Thornbury. Each had four of a family present. The prize was awarded by a draw. Mrs. Rear was the winner.

Ladies' sewing contest, judged by Mr. Peterman, Aurora, Charles Deisman, Maple, and George Peterman, Bradford; first, Mrs. Charles Deisman, Maple, second, Mrs. Ed. Bowen, King City, third, Mrs. Mertie Harman, Wellsville, Penn.

Mrs. Sullivan, Toronto, won the prize for capturing the mystery man, who was Allen Harman, Northumberland, Penn., who was accompanied at the reunion by his brother, Harry, also of Northumberland, Penn.

A horseshoe pitching contest was won by Ed. Bowen, King City, and Mike McQuay, Markham. Chinese checkers for adults, 1st prize, Mrs. O. R. Shuttleworth, Toronto, 2nd prize, Miss Rear, Hamilton.

Other prizes were given for children's games and a baseball game.

Winners of the lucky draw were 1st, Karl Lees, Mount Albert, $5 war savings certificate, 2nd, Mrs. Lyons, Toronto, fancy tray, and 3rd, Mrs. O. R. Shuttleworth, $2 voucher.

Music for the dance in the evening was provided by Guy Soules, Toronto, and the Harper family of Newmarket. Mrs. Geo. A. Shuttleworth, Mount Albert, and Mrs. Garnet Deisman, Maple, were able to arrange for the sports program and prizes through the generous donations received from several members of the reunion. A lovely satin cushion was made and donated by Mrs. Delbert Gibney, Newmarket, which went to one of the American cousins for coming the longest distance.

A pair of pillow cases, with hand-made tatting, was donated by Mrs. B. Harwood, Uxbridge. O. R. Shuttleworth, president, and O. L. Shuttleworth, secretary-treasurer, gave between three and four hundred printed invitations as well as other donations.

Clifford Soules of Toronto capably took charge of the sports on the grounds.

The quilt blocks used in the sewing contest were sold by auction to a lady from Toronto on the grounds for another picnic, and it is understood will be sold again in aid of war funds.

After the picnic a large box of food was packed and sent to the Fred Victor Mission, Toronto.

Drumbo, are visiting Mrs. Atkinson's father, Bailiff Malloy.

Mrs. Williams of Toronto, daughter of Mr. Geo. Strigley, is here on a visit for a couple of weeks.

The Common Round

TAJ MAHAL

By Isabel Inglis Colville

"Let's go and see the Taj Mahal," said friend husband to me one lovely June morning.

"Taj Mahal—India?" said I, while a vision of lotus flowers floating on the Shalimar and the tinkle of temple bells floated before me—"how can we go to India. We're neither the time nor the where-with-all."

"To see the Taj Mahal I'm thinking of," my better half told me a bit scornfully, "you don't have to go to India—you go to Mount Albert and poke along from there till you find it."

So I came back from my dream of a jewelled and marble shrine, set apart by its beauty for all generations to wonder at, and agreed very unromantically—"lets."

"Do you know where you're going?" asked mother practically, as we put out the reluctant cats, who knew something was pending.

"We have ideas and eyes," said the head of the house, as he went for the car, while I tried to avoid the eyes of Spec, who regards our leaving the premises as a personal affront and stages a hunger strike till the family is again in place.

However, I had seen to it that Spec got his pay before he earned it, on this particular morning, and presently we were on our way.

"Do you know much about it?" I asked as we drove along, and I tried to remember what Golden Glow had written of it some years ago.

"Not much," said he, "just that it was built by a man named Foster and is quite a wonderful bit of work."

"I'll watch this side of the road, if you can keep your eye on that," I suggested, as we drove slowly along.

"There'll be a dome, I suppose," said I, and—"there it is," we yelled in unison, as to the left, a short distance on a side road, rose a dome so eastern in contour that it looked strangely alien and aloof in the sharp, distinct light of a Canadian summer day.

Its severely perfect beauty of outline and form kept us silent gazers for a few minutes and then, as a car drew up behind us and two men got out, I suggested we do the same, as they might know something of its construction.

Strangely enough, one of them had watched its building and as we went up the wide paved walk and mounted the steps, he said that although we could not get in we could see splendidly through the door.

So, with the exception of mother, who stayed in the car, the rest of us made as good use of our eyes as we could. The floor is of exquisite mosaic work in colored marbles.

Facing us, at the extreme eastern side, was an altar of green marble, whereon flowers bloomed. Framing the chancel were gigantic pillars and an arch of beautifully worked marble mosaic—the colors glistening like precious stones. Round the arch as well as we could see were the words, "Thy God is my God."

The dome was lighted beautifully with stained glass windows—our narrator friend told us each one of these cost $400.

The lower part of the building, too, was lighted by stained glass of lovely tints. Just in front of the chancel steps one could see where a slab could be raised to give entrance to the vault.

A pipe organ is there, I believe, but that our limited vision could not see. Chairs we did see. The marble work was done by the few Italians capable of doing this sort of work in this country.

Every man employed was an artist, and it cost ex-Mayor Foster $200,000 to produce this gem of architecture.

The outside of the dome is of copper—dulled now by the elements, but the pinnacle of the dome, covered with gold leaf, glitters as the rays of the sun strike it.

And this gem is set in the emeralds of floral haidierat—rare shrubs and trees and exquisite roses.

This beautiful shrine enclosed the bodies of Mr. Foster's wife and daughter, but no workmen were put to death that the secret of the building of THIS Taj Mah

UNION STREET GARDEN PARTY NETS WAR VICTIMS $86

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Irvine Rose, con. 4, near Queensville, was the scene of a very successful garden party last Wednesday evening, June 25, sponsored by the Union Street Women's Institute.

Proceeds amounted to $86, less expenses, to be devoted to the British war victims' fund. Success of the evening is attributed to the baking donations and the generous help of ladies of the community, artists of the evening and kind donations from the following, Ravenshoe United Church Ladies' aid, Maple Hill Dorcas Society, Riddell's and Cooke's bakeries, Mount Albert, Sutton and City creameries, Gordon Rowe, Queensville, Mrs. W. Crowder and Hugh Ross, Ravenshoe, Luke Lyons, Newmarket, Mrs. Allan Crocker, Jas. Clarke, Art. Alexander and Mr. and Mrs. Lockerbie.

All enjoyed the pleasant evening.

WORKING TOGETHER IS NEED, SAYS PASTOR

"A few weeks ago I attended the North American Ecumenical conference, in Toronto," declared Rev. Burton Hill, minister of the Society of Friends, at the final union prayer meeting in the Christian church last week. "At this conference 250 delegates representing some 70 denominations, which have come into the World Council of Churches (in process of formation), were represented," Mr. Hill said. "We talked over the 'Way' for the future and worshipped and fellowshiped together."

"I felt that I would like to tell you some of the thoughts expressed at this conference and that this meeting, being the last of a number in which persons of a number of denominations have worshipped and prayed together, would be an appropriate time to do so."

"Dr. Guerra from Mexico told us that there were many things which he did not know. He did not know why his skin was dark and others' white nor why he was born in Mexico and others farther north, nor yet why to his community had come missionaries of a particular denomination. 'But one thing,' said he, 'I do know and that is that I am a Christian and that you are Christians and that we then have something in common. We are Christians together and the very centre of our life is our Christian faith.' It was in such a spirit of fellowship that we met."

"Among those attending were stalwart men of God and also men who seemed almost disillusioned, desirous of forcing the hand of God and cynical because things had not developed in the way they had hoped."

"It was not in listening to fine orations that we received the greatest blessing, it seldom is, but rather as we met in groups for discussion and worship. In these small groups of about 25 the fires that warmed our souls were kindled and we grew to know persons of a traditionally different background."

"From the discussion groups came the feeling that we must be doing our part in our world today. We cannot isolate ourselves either nationally or personally. We must be building now for a peaceful world and this cannot be done by (1) people who leave such building till the war is over nor (2) by men who cannot work with the rest of their family or other members of their community nor (3) by persons who cannot work with their fellow Christians."

"We must right now endeavor to live that kind of life that will take away all occasion for war. 'It is not our job to try to get men to be like brothers. Men are brothers and we have sound biblical teaching to support us. 'God . . . hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth.' Our Christian faith must be such that the foundations for a new world are being laid right where we live."

"Today we need an 'iness' in our life, a positive building and not a tearing apart and breaking down. Solomon's temple was built without the sound of saw or hammer. The parts were different but so made that they fitted perfectly together. Yes, it can be done, God has infinite resources available for even us, even now."

"In our prayer meetings together we have found strength to go forward. In the weeks before us we must continue united in prayer for our leaders, for reborn men in every walk of life, who will be sufficiently in the business of the eternal God to give Him the first place in their life and to seek to win men for Him."

"Above all else we must pray for one another. There are many fellow Christians who are suffering today because they believe the things we believe and want to live in the way and with the faith and ideals that we profess to have. Across the frontiers and barriers of imaginary lines are these men of like spirit."

"We must be faithful to them in our prayers; praying that they will have strength even while they pay dearly for their

M.O.H. Gives Talk On Communicable Diseases

The Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. Herbert Patrick on Wednesday afternoon of last week. A large number of members and visitors were present. Dr. A. F. Kay, medical health officer for King township, addressed the ladies on the duties of an M.O.H., and the prevention of communicable diseases, which was very interesting and educational. A short discussion followed.

The junior club girls put on a skit on first aid. The draw was made by Mrs. John Storey, the oldest lady present, for the Madeira linen bedroom set, so very generously donated for Red Cross work by Mr. and Mrs. Fingold of Aurora. Mrs. Charles Teasdale was the lucky winner. This draw netted the branch $11.50. A plant donated by the president, Mrs. Ed. Reddick, was raffled and was won by Mrs. Frank Hollingshead, which realized a nice little sum for the flower fund.

The annual picnic to Bayview Beach has been arranged, the date to be announced later. The meeting closed with the national anthem.

The annual garden party is to take place on July 4 on the United church lawn. Supper will be served from 5.30 to 8 o'clock, standard time. A good program is being arranged, including Scotty McGee, humorist, Charlie and Bill Williams, cornet and saxophone, Miss Blythe, soloist, Mrs. Stone and son, musical numbers, cowboy yodler, and Mr. Klinek, musical saw.

faith. Today we must, as Christians, have enthusiasm, devotion and fellowship. If our nation will have reason to stand, our faith must become a living part of us, lived out in all the details of life.

"The Rev. G. A. Oldham, Bishop of Albany, said at the Toronto conference, 'Our creeds must become incarnate in us.' We should not, he told us, look for some happy turn of events which will save us at the last moment. A sun-dial in the Old Land has inscribed on it these words, 'It is later than you think.' The situation in our world demands that our lives be given to God and to His way now."

"We must think and pray courageously and conclusively. When we do we will be led forward in faith and action."

"Jesus said, 'I am the Way, the Truth and the Life.' He indeed is the hope of the world today."

ENNIS-WATTS

NUPTIALS HELD

A very pretty outdoor wedding took place on Saturday at the home of the bride's parents, when Annie Marie Watts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Watts, Newmarket, became the bride of James Hugh Ennis, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ennis, of Orillia. Mrs. Charles Cumber played the wedding music and Mrs. Harold Hilton rendered the solo, "O Promise Me," during the signing of the register. Rev. Arthur Greer officiated.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a printed sheer redingote over crepe, of japonica tan, with white and tan accessories. Her corsage was of sweetheart roses and blue delphinium. Her only ornament was a gold watch, the gift of the groom. The bride's sister, Mrs. Harry Bolton, was matron of honor, wearing a printed sheer redingote over crepe, of turquoise blue, with white accessories and a corsage of tallman roses and white delphinium. Mr. Bert Ennis, brother of the groom, was best man.

At the reception following the ceremony, the bride's mother received in rose crepe and the groom's mother in grey printed sheer. Their corsages were of roses and bouvardia.

The bride and groom left on a motor trip to northern Ontario.

TAKE VOWS AT QUIET CEREMONY

A quiet wedding took place at the Congregational - Christian church parsonage last Friday, when Alice Edna, daughter of Mrs. W. T. Webster and the late Mr. Webster of Newmarket, became the bride of Charles Arthur Telford Kirbyson, son of Mr. Thomas Kirbyson and the late Mrs. Kirbyson of Newmarket. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Arthur Greer.

The bride was becomingly gowned in a blue and white figured crepe sheer dress with redingote and white accessories, and carried a white Bible with streamers and sweetheart roses tied in a lovers' knot. Mrs. Harold Hilton attended the bride and wore a navy dress with white accessories and corsage of tallman roses. Mr. Harold Hilton was groomsmen.

On their return from a trip to points north, they will reside in Newmarket.

PRETTY WEDDING HELD AT BETHESDA

A pretty wedding took place on Saturday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Empringham, Bethesda, when their daughter, Janet Louise, became the bride of Herbert Frederick Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Nelson, Victoria Square. Amid a picturesque setting of delphinium, snapdragons and ferns the bride was given in marriage by her father, with Rev. T. Orr performing the ceremony.

The bride wore white crepe with net veil and cap effect. She carried American Beauty roses and baby's breath. The bridesmaid was Miss Ethel Empringham, the bride's sister. She had chosen a frock of dusk pink crepe with white hat and shoes. Her flowers were tallman roses. Little Jean Empringham, niece of the bride, made a pretty flower girl in a dress of pale yellow taffeta. John Nelson acted as best man for his brother.

During the wedding ceremony, Mrs. William Empringham played softly, while, during the signing of the register, Mrs. Roy Morley of Vandorf sang, accompanied by Grant Morley.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held, Mrs. J. T. Empringham wearing navy blue sheer with matching accessories and a corsage of Briarcliffe roses. Mrs. Nelson wore a gown of black and white sheer with a white hat trimmed with black and a black crown. She wore a corsage of crimson roses. There were 50 guests present at the wedding.

For travelling the bride wore a blue ensemble with white accessories. After a wedding trip in northern Ontario they will reside at Victoria Square.

Holland Landing

Commencing Sunday, July 6, and continuing through the summer until the third Sunday in September, all services in Christ church will be held at 10 a.m., standard time. The services will be in the charge of some of the outstanding laymen in the diocese. This Sunday the speaker will be A. C. Allman of Toronto.

Dual Purposes

A husband and wife came to a bank to open a joint account. Being in a hurry, the man made out his signature card and left. "Let me see," an official of the bank said to the wife. "This is to be a joint account, is it not?" "That's right," smiled the wife. "Deposit for him—chequing for me."

LOCAL MARKET

Are You The Man Who Was TOO BUSY??

The Canadian National Exhibition (Aug. 22 to Sept. 6) is telling the public about the "man who was too busy" to see the salesmen who called on him. "Then he got busier and couldn't even spare time to see his customers. He was doing war work, his plant was running full-time, his salesmen almost had to keep out of sight lest they be offered orders they couldn't fill. Then the time came when he wasn't so busy. Orders began to slacken off, salesmen came out of hiding. But strangely enough all his old customers had been able to find other firms to fill their needs."

The C. N. E. suggests that manufacturers shouldn't neglect to tell their story to the public this year at the great show just because they have a lot of orders on hand at the moment.

ADVERTISING IS LIKE THAT. IT SHOULD BE MAINTAINED IN GOOD TIMES TO SOFTEN THE BUMP IN BAD TIMES. IT APPLIES NOT ONLY TO EXHIBITS AT THE C. N. E., BUT ALSO TO NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING.

The tried friend which secured welcome business during more difficult days is still a friend today.

ENJOY YOURSELF AT THE STRAND

There were 29 correct sets of answers sent in this week. From these the following five winners were drawn: Joe Gibson, Queensville; Miss Olive Coleman, Aurora; Murray Varney, Holt; Mrs. F. Eakins, Newmarket, and Mrs. E. Woolven, Newmarket. They may obtain their double passes any evening at the Strand theatre, for next Tuesday's or next Thursday's show.

Correct answers to last week's contest were: standing, stove, evening, month, private, ripe, free, young, rooms, hardwood.

Five double passes will be given to winners of this week's contest, answers to be in by Tuesday morning at 9.30 a.m., D.S.T. Winners may see either Gary Cooper and Barbara Stanwyck in "Meet John Doe" and Nan Grey and Alan Baxter in "Under Age," on Tuesday, July 15, or Joan Crawford, Gary Cooper and Franchot Tone in "Today We Live" and Jane Withers and Buddy Rogers in "Golden Hoofs," on Thursday, July 17.

It is easier to make a contest than to solve it. The ideal would be to make it just hard enough so that five people would get it right, no more and no less, but that is easier said than done. The attempt is made to make the contest more difficult this week by dropping in some instances the first letter of a word (as last week) and in other instances the last letter.

For this week's contest, then, ten words have been taken from the classifieds, the first or last letter has been dropped from each, and the remaining letters have been scrambled to give the following results: blearil, rhulee-dva, stasieu, arnl, sodun, sirc, sage, croke, elyaon, dear.

WANT-ADS

The rate for Want Ads is 25 cents for 25 words for one insertion; 40 cents for two insertions; 50 cents for three insertions. For over 25 words, each additional word, one insertion, one cent, additional insertions, one-half cent per insertion.

HAVE PRETTY GARDEN CEREMONY

In a garden setting of an archway of evergreens and peonies, the marriage took place of Annie Irene Fogal, daughter of Mrs. Fogal and the late Mr. Fogal of Newmarket, to Frank Douglas Ross of Columbus, Ont., only son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ross, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Mahoney, Ravenshoe, on June 21.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. Whilly of Columbus United church.

The bride was charming in a crepe dress of romance blue, and a large picture hat of navy blue, with navy blue accessories. She wore a corsage of baby pink roses, bouvardia and fern, tied with pink ribbon.

Mrs. Lorne Mahoney attended the bride, wearing a blue crepe flowered dress and white accessories. Mr. Mahoney was best man.

At the reception the bride's mother received, wearing a dark flowered sheer dress with black accessories, assisted by the groom's mother, wearing a dress of dusty rose sheer with black accessories.

Many guests were present from Columbus, Newmarket and Ravenshoe.

The bride and groom will reside at Columbus on their return from a wedding trip.

COUPLE WILL LIVE IN MOUNT ALBERT

Miss Dorothy Edna Raper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Roy Raper of Toronto, became the bride of James Stuart Hammett, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Sanders Hammett of Mount Albert, at a pretty wedding at High Park United church, Toronto, last Friday evening.

The church was decorated with pillars of peonies and delphinium. Rev. J. D. Parks officiated, with Roy Grass at the organ. Mrs. Alex. Morrall sang.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore white lace, with a train, and wore the groom's gift, a pearl necklace, and a finger-tip veil with orange blossoms. Her flowers were white roses and delphinium.

Miss Jean McCullough of Port Hope, the bride's cousin, was maid of honor, wearing pale pink point d'esprit. Miss Audrey Garside of Peterborough, the bridesmaid, wore pale blue point d'esprit. The two flower girls, Miss Elizabeth Stokes, niece of the groom, and Miss Nancy Raper, cousin of the bride, wore pink and blue mousseline de soie respectively, trimmed with contrasting lace, and carried nosegays of pink and blue sweet peas.

Mr. Donovan Gilkes of Newmarket was best man, while Mr. Wm. Stokes and Mr. Maxwell Raper were ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Old Mill, where Mrs. Raper received, wearing crystal blue crepe, white flowered hat and corsage of white roses.

For travelling the bride wore heaven blue crepe with white hat. On their return from a cruise on the Great Lakes, Mr. and Mrs. Hammett will live in Mount Albert.

"Does it make any difference on which side of you I sit?" she asked.

"Not a bit," he replied. "I'm ambidextrous."

EVERSLEY ORGANIST HONORED AS BRIDE

The strawberry season has been shortened considerably on account of the very dry weather, neither dew nor rain, but high drying winds, and cloudless sun.

The Utri club, which is the Junior Red Cross at Eversley school, sent in $30 to the Red Cross as the result of their sale of work at their recent closing exercises.

Fred Carver of King Station died last Tuesday in his 89th year. Among the writer's earliest recollections is the fact that Fred Carver as a young man was 'hired man' at Maple Avenue Farm. He was small and wiry, a willing worker and a kindly neighbor. His wife, Sofia Nixon, survives.

Miss Frances McCallum Ross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Ross of King City, was a bride on Saturday. Albert Holman of Aurora was the happy husband and Rev. Mr. Atkinson officiated.

Miss Ross has been organist of Eversley church and always willing to use her musical talents for all entertainments, and has been a capable, efficient helper at all times.

On Thursday night, Eversley young people gathered at her home and showered her with gifts. They had a good social time, ending with lunch and a view of many other gifts of which she had been the recipient.

Wednesday evening was the strawberry festival night. It was held on the beautiful farm of Mr. Elliott. This is the former Parnham Wells farm by the Humber. Under the care of Jack Bak, the farm is a spot of beauty. There is an abundance of beautiful blue spruce trees. Everywhere there is evidence of care, landscape planning and love of beauty.

There was a good crowd at the supper and the entertainment was of high quality. Miss V. Brown, of the Toronto Red Cross, a professional monodramatist, gave generously of her splendid talent, which was much enjoyed. The Johnston trio of Pine Orchard, "Bus" Heise of Aurora, the young cornet player, Donald Cribar, of Newmarket, the Hunter girls, dancers, and a Scotch comedian all gave splendidly and were well received.

SCHOMBERG TWO AGED RESIDENTS OF SCHOMBERG DIE

Mr. and Mrs. H. Mills of Newmarket called on Mrs. W. McKinnley on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Cole of Woodbridge visited Mr. and Mrs. S. McDevitt on Sunday.

Mr. Ed. Abbott of Sudbury spent the weekend with his parents, Rev. and Mrs. F. V. Abbott, here.

The United church Sunday-school held their annual picnic on Saturday at Innisfil Park, Lake Simcoe, and all report a splendid time.

Mrs. R. Wilson and Mrs. W. Thompson visited Mrs. Wilfred Aitchison on Thursday.

Wm. Stonehouse has taken a position at Lindsay for the summer months.

Two of Schomberg's oldest residents passed away last week. Miss E. Jardine, at the age of 90 years, and Mrs. Chas. Davis at the age of 84 years.

George Taylor was taken to St. Michael's hospital, Toronto, early Sunday morning, where he was operated on at once, and, at the time of writing, is seriously ill.

Mrs. H. Clarke, who was a resident in Schomberg for a number of years, died on Sunday. She was taken seriously ill at the lake and was not able to be moved home again. Interment will be made at Schomberg on Tuesday.

POTTAGEVILLE DRY WEATHER SPOILS STRAWBERRY CROP

The Pottageville picnic came off on Saturday. There was a nice crowd. They had races, games and lucky numbers, and prizes were won by the children and older ones.

The hot weather and no rain have spoiled the strawberries around here.

Miss Hattie Cutting of Toronto was home over the weekend with her mother, Mrs. John Cutting.

Miss Mary Mizuk of Watertown is visiting her sister, Mrs. Adrian Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Stone and boys have moved out for the summer to their cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb. Messenger and family of Malton spent Sunday with Mrs. Messenger's brother, Mr. Ed. O'Brien.

Mr. and Mrs. F. McCann and family are visiting Mrs. Ward Cook.

Mrs. Robert Rose has been ill with asthma for the last week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Houghton and family of Cookstown called on friends in town on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Abraham and some friends were looking around their new home on Sunday.

Miss Betty Weedon of Toronto is visiting her mother, Mrs. Wm. Weedon on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Kayser and family spent the weekend with Mrs. Kayser's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Erickson.

Miss Beverley Weedon of S.S. No. 13 passed her entrance with honors.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Erickson and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. John Macdonald and family, of Toronto, called on their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Erickson, on Sunday.

KING CITY SUMMER WEDDINGS HELD AT KING CITY

Rev. Mr. Galloway of the Baptist church preached in Brampton on Sunday evening.

The community expresses its deepest sympathy to Mrs. Carver and relatives, in the passing of Mr. Fred Carver. Mr. Carver has been a resident of the village for a great many years.

Mrs. C. Ward and her daughter, Patricia, of Toronto, spent the weekend with Mrs. Ward's mother, Mrs. Crossley.

The Aurora and King school bus club held their picnic last Friday at Mossington Park, Lake Simcoe.

Miss Mildred Polliott of Temperanceville is training to take the place of Miss Frances Ross on the King exchange.

Mrs. John Dew, Sr., has gone to Priceville to spend a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Alfred Odell.

Misses Beth McDonald and Louise Lockhart and Mr. Randolph Lockhart are going on a motoring trip to Quebec.

Miss Margaret Kerswill has taken a position at a summer resort in Haliburton.

Miss Norma Legge has accepted a school in Toronto. For the past few years Miss Legge has been the teacher at Strange school.

Mr. Kenneth Davis of Timmins spent the weekend at his home.

Miss Ruth Pinder of Sharan was a guest at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Douglas Davis on Sunday.

On Saturday, at the home of the bride, a lovely wedding ceremony was performed, when

DOWN THE CENTRE

The 1st Hussars won the softball championship of the 6th Canadian armored division at Camp Borden recently and four Aurora boys played on the team. Wm. White guarded the initial sack and Shorty Richardson, with very little actual playing experience, turned in a neat game at shortstop. Ray White, the lone benedict of the quartet, was stationed in the outfield and Bill Muford was relief pitcher and pinch hitter. Not bad for the old home town!

The Hussars then went on into the Camp Borden play-offs and battered their way to the finals, losing out in the third and final game to the New Westminster regiment. According to all reports, the B. C. Salmonbellies are just as expert with the softball sphere as their progenitors were with the gutted lacrosse stick.

The Newmarket cycling club Sounds pretty good, and in a few weeks or more it will be a reality as far as the canal town is concerned. Bob Benville, former star rider of the local club, is working at the Office Specialty and has been able to arouse considerable interest in the club in Newmarket, and a club is definite now. All those interested should contact Benville at once. Club colors will be blue and white, always a favorite in the hub of North York, and a snappy crest is being engineered. We are certain the public in our northern neighborhood will more than welcome this new aggregation.

"Way back when" Newmarket was a redhot cycling town and the late Al. Blinn was one of the stand-out riders of the province. There used to be some redhot competition between Aurora and Newmarket cyclists over 40 years ago, with the late Bert. Daville, Mord. Lloyd and Arthur Ashton being some of the leading Aurora riders of those days. Daville, like Blinn, was one of the best in Ontario.

Harry Couse, the Barrie pitcher, who is headman in the league, with an average of over 10 strikeouts per game, may be lost to his team shortly and in fact might wind up winging them in for the military camp. Harry is only 22 years of age, and last November took his military training at the Newmarket camp. With a prospective call-up in the near future of those boys who were at the camp then, Couse may be included. It would just about reverse things so far as the Barrie vs. Camp battles are concerned.

Jack Elder, the big first sacker with the local softball team, has as yet failed to show anything of the form which has made him one of the most feared hitters in the Wanless Park league. Our opinion is that Elder is taking the pitching here much too lightly and, as a result, is looking bad at the plate. He has told Manager Simmons he is going to go all out and we believe the big boy will be a real threat once he realizes that up in the sticks the boys take their ball seriously.

The riot act has been promulgated by Simmons to his boys and it is to be hoped it bears fruit. On paper the team looks deluxe and against the camp team were that way, but their last two games have been very drab. Earlier in the season they lost three straight tough ones, but at this stage there can be no excuses, except that most of the boys haven't responded with the old moxie. Of course, pitching plays its part, but even if some of the hurlers are weak, the fact that the team plays indifferent ball only tosses away all chances and respect from the fans.

John Q. Butler got a big eyeful and Old Man Far took a shellacking over the fairways of the local golf club last Sunday afternoon when Bob Burns (no relation to the Van Buren Burns), pro at Weston and present Ontario open golf champ, Bob Gray, top ranking pro from the Scarborough club and galahad of the Canadian golfers, Dick Northwick, dapper young pro from Toronto Oaklands, and Bert Wright, maestro of the local club, hooked up in a foursome sponsored by the local club, with all proceeds going to the British war victims' fund. The fund got something over $100, the boys and girls had a big time, the serious ones had a cheap lesson in form, the golfers, hand for the way all arrangements were carried out.

Burns carded a 68, scoring an eagle, four birdies, eleven pars and taking an extra stroke on the short second, and the dog-legs fifth. Older than his Toronto colleagues, he was as cool as a cucumber. He drove straight and true and devious efforts were a birdie two on the second, when he clipped to the cup from off the green, and an eagle three on the fifth. Funny thing to reverse order on these two holes. Bob Gray hit the longest ball, but frequently hit the rough. He made it all look very easy, however. He was out in 33, but faded a bit in the second round, to come in one below par. The long holes seemed to suit him the best. Dick Northwick, hardly as robust as the others, was tired from the two-day grind in the open at Ancaster, relaxed and tapered off and Prexy Lorne Lee and his committee deserve a big off his best game and finished with a 77. He went the first nine in 37 and the last 40. Poor luck on his putting saw him rim the cup on more than one occasion. His driving was lovely to watch.

Bert Wright, lacking the reputation and competition of his companions, but playing on his own course, pressed a bit too hard with so many home folks looking on. His 78 was not his best game by any means. His tee shots gave him the greatest trouble and he never did get the distance of the others. In spots he was their equal. His birdie three on the seventh to pace Gray at that stage was a beauty as he dropped a lovely 38-foot putt. Like Northwick, he just couldn't combine his game at the right time.

The greens on the Aurora course, if they had been as billiard-like as the big name courses, would have contributed probably to a course record or at least two or three strokes less by the leaders.

Harry "Hap" Holmes passed to the great beyond last week in his 54th year. For many years he was one of the greatest hockey and lacrosse goal-tenders on the American continent. On his retirement from active participation he acted as scout for big league clubs and coach for Cleveland Barons, being succeeded there by Bill Cook. Holmes was born in Aurora, his father, the late Tom Holmes, being a blacksmith at the Wilkinson and Fleury plants. The family moved to west Toronto with the Wilkinson firm, but returned here to live on Gurnett St. when young Holmes was about 16.

He got his first start at lacrosse here at about the time Roy and Orrie DeLaHaye, Britt and "Doc" Griffiths, Jack Nelson, Jack Trivett, Dan Webster, Bob McMahon and others were the local sports heroes.

After about three years here he moved to Toronto and after a short amateur career, during which he guarded the hockey nets for an O.H.A. senior title, he jumped to the monied ranks. It was with Torontos he really won fame in lacrosse in the days when Scarborough Beach park was the rendezvous of Ontario's lacrosse fans. Seattle on the Pacific coast, which won pro honors, lured him west and here it was he performed goal-keeping miracles for a Stanley Cup championship and countless western winners.

Holmes, one of the big figures, died, as do so many athletes, comparatively early in life. One of the most outstanding of Aurora's athletic sons has gone after a long and honored career. His nickname, "Happy," which he got here, was indicative of the man's whole way of living.

Frances Elizabeth Ross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Ross, became the bride of Albert Holman, son of the late Joseph and Mrs. Holman, Aurora. Rev. G. L. Atkinson of King officiated.

The bride wore an afternoon frock of light blue silk jersey, made with fitted bodice and long skirt, and white accessories, with a corsage of red roses. The witnesses were Miss Lina Holman, sister of the groom, and Donald McCallum, Laskay, brother of the bride.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride. For travelling the bride wore a two-tone luggage tan frock with a jacket and white accessories. The couple left for points north and will reside at Aurora on their return.

On Monday night, in the Kinghorn school, a shower was held for Miss Bessie McBride. There was a large crowd. The assistants were Misses Margaret Scott, Ruth Finch and Mary Riddell.

On Tuesday, on the lawn of the United church parsonage, a pretty wedding ceremony took place, when Agnes Bessie McBride, daughter of the late Mr. Jas. McBride and Mrs. McBride, Toronto, became the bride of David Ernest Skinner, Toronto, son of Mr. and Mrs. Davidson Skinner, Udon.

The bride wore a blue sheer afternoon frock with Swiss embroidery and white accessories, with a corsage of pink roses. Miss Margaret Grace McBride, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and wore a flowered sheer frock with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses. The groomsmen were Alvin John

PEPPER AND SALT

Now is an opportune time for a "swimming-pool crusade" in Newmarket. Newmarket has all the water and more than she can use and the problem of there being enough water for a pool for the children and adults of the town is now no problem at all. The problem is whether enough money can be raised to build a pool.

Money is not as scarce in wartime as it is after a war and I believe that Newmarket citizens now are willing to donate enough money to construct a suitable tank. They were generous in the Victory loan, generous in helping the blind and Canada's armed forces with tag days, generous in helping the churches and the bands, generous in helping Britain's war victims and they now have a right to be a little selfish and be generous in providing their children with a swimming-pool.

Many children of Newmarket are poor enough that they haven't the means to get to a lake in the summer and they are childish enough (and who isn't) to be envious of those who have. When they grow up to young manhood and womanhood they may be afraid of the water and will be doomed to be afraid of it for the rest of their lives. It is a serious matter to them.

Newmarket has been called the finest town in York county and for that matter in Ontario, but I am dubious. Measured by its fine streets, its good location, its industries, its library, its hospital, its churches, and its shopping centre, Newmarket may be the finest town in these parts, but measured by its recreational facilities it has yet a long way to go. By adding a swimming-pool, it will go that long way.

There is now well over $1,000 on hand for the purpose of constructing a swimming-pool. Starting with this and continuing with carnivals, garden parties and other entertainment in aid of a swimming-pool fund this summer, the town could plan on starting the actual spade-work by this fall or early next year. It's now or never. If we wait until after the war we will probably wait forever.

The war drives in Newmarket have taught us the necessity of having good leadership in making any civic campaign a success. Before Newmarket will get a pool here, representative and energetic citizens of this town must first be chosen to lead the campaign. Once they are chosen the ball will start rolling faster than anyone can imagine.

The reporter broaching these ideas isn't the first one to do so, he may not have reached the age of voting and his arguments in favor of a town swimming-pool (a really adequate swimming-pool) may not be any too sound, but he still is convinced that a proper swimming place for the citizens of the town where they can be taught to swim and can enjoy a summer's swimming, is a dire necessity. Give it some consideration and then, if willing, we'll roll up our sleeves and not rest until Newmarket has a swimming-pool. We may think we have the finest town in Ontario, but let's go to work and make sure!

Advertisers— Our circulation is your Audience

If you were going to buy the privilege of talking to a theatre audience about your business you would want to know all about the audience. How many people? Where do they live? How much did they pay to get in? The answers to these questions would have a bearing on the value of the audience to your business.

THESE are the things you want to know about the people who read your advertising too. In the circulation of this newspaper we offer you an interested audience of people who can use your merchandise and service.

Just as a merchant buys and sells merchandise on the basis of known standards of quality, weight and measure, so are we prepared to tell advertisers all about our circulation.

That's why we belong to the Audit Bureau of Circulations—to give our advertisers a verified count and description of the audience that they get when they buy advertising in this paper. There are definite standards for advertising values as well as for merchandise. We believe that newspaper advertising should be bought and sold on the basis of these standards.

The Audit Bureau of Circulations is a national, cooperative association of 2000 publishers, advertisers and advertising agencies. The Bureau has a staff of skilled auditors and once a year these men visit all publisher members and make a careful audit of their circulation records. The information from these audits is then issued in reports which are available to advertisers.

Only through these A.B.C. reports can you get verified facts and figures about the audience that you will talk to when you buy advertising space. They are your assurance that you will get what you pay for because they describe and analyze net paid circulation—how large it is, where it is, how it was secured. Protect your advertising investment by using these A.B.C. reports.

Warner Brothers' "Underground," the story of the German Freedom radio, was to have had its world premiere in the Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico, but has been cancelled because a portion of the dens had been inundated by recent flood waters and could not be used for several weeks.

Bob Hope and Madeline Carroll will be seen for the first time together on the screen in Paramount's "Snowball in Hell." This picture will go into production in October.

Martha Raye will play the top lead in "Hetzapoppin'," the Broadway stage success of two seasons ago.

Lloyds have an application from Republic Pictures for a million dollar policy on the shapely limbs of Dorothy Lewis, 19-year-old skating star, who has the lead in "Ice-capades."

Last weekend the world saw the forced entry of Russia into the present struggle. This brings to mind a Russian picture released in Toronto some three years ago which was supposed to have been a warning to Hitler if he attacked Russia.

This picture tells the story of invasion and conquest by superior German knights of all existing forces in the early part of the fifteenth century, until a Russian prince named Alexander Nevsky, who had won fame by defeating the Swedes on the River Neva, was called upon by the people to form an army to defend the Russian soil against the invading German hordes, who were similar in predatory ambitions and brutalities to the Nazis of today.

After numerous set-backs the Russians drew the heavily armed Germans into a lake region where they fought the "Battle of the Ice," which spelled the defeat of the invaders.

Rumors have it that President Roosevelt looked to this picture for a clarification of Russia's foreign policy of that time. This was before the clouds of the present storm had darkened the horizon of the universe.

Time will tell whether the Russians of today will be able to again inflict a decisive defeat upon the aggressors of today, as did their ancestors of that time and then again in the early eighteenth century when they stopped Napoleon, the ambitious Corsican, who craved world domination and who met final defeat at the hands of the Iron Duke in the Battle of Waterloo.

Toronto's own Mary Pickford has accepted the chairmanship of the Hollywood Women's Division of United China Relief and is gathering a group of the film capital's leading stars to participate in a campaign among the stars and studio employees.

John Gerson, film commissioner, announced that the department of public information would sponsor a picture on hemispheric defence which will be completed in November with the co-operation of Canadian and American authorities.

Neither bombs, bullets nor blackouts halt British film flow to Canada. According to information released by the Ontario board of moving-picture censors during the fiscal year 1940-41, the total from the United Kingdom was 67 as compared with 51 during the previous year when hostilities were getting under way.

Prize was extended for the manner in which the British film industry was maintaining production and improving its technical standards. It is all the more noteworthy because it has been done while war raged in the sky over the British Isles and invasion seemed imminent.

Argentina has lifted the ban on Chaplin's "Dictator." This is a setback to the activities of the Italian ambassador in Buenos Aires, who was instrumental in having this showing prohibited.

Now the chamber of deputies has passed a resolution directing the government to halt fifth column activities in Argentina.

(Mr. and Mrs.) Ben Cohen, Metro theatre manager on route from New York to Durban, South Africa, will be indebted for life to the British navy, which saved his life when he was one of the passengers of the ill-fated Tobin Moor, the American merchantman which was torpedoed by the Nazis off the coast of Brazil.

Major A. G. Condie, past president, conducted the election of officers, which resulted in the following being elected by acclamation: president, Hon. W. P. Mulock (11th term), secretary, Ben. F. Cox (9th term), treasurer, James Butler (4th term).

More than 50 members are on active service. Two of the members have three sons on active service, while several others have two.

Dr. G. A. C. Gunton of Aurora and Gladstone Lloyd, Schomberg, were appointed as a committee to work with the county officers on the rehabilitation question.

The Stouffville branch provided refreshments to the delegates after the meeting, with Geo. Myland and B. Lickorish, officers of that branch, in charge.

BIRTHDAY CLUB

(in co-operation with Strand theatre)

Birthday congratulations to Betty Lundy, Newmarket, who will be seven years old on Friday, July 4.

Last week's problem was too hard for this hot weather, we guess, especially when the holidays were just starting and brains were a bit worn out. Anyway, only two boys got the correct answer, which was 6.45. These two boys were Jim Smart, Newmarket, a new member of the club, and Bill Gilroy, Newmarket.

In view of the fact that three other admissions to the theatre are available, we picked the names at random of three other club members, who this week will also receive free admission to Saturday's matinee. They are Betty Stephens, Billy Patrick and Betty Squires, of Newmarket. If these boys and girls present themselves at the theatre, they will be given admission to the show.

Five admissions will again be given for next week's Saturday matinee, so now that you've all had a few holidays to pep you up, how about doing a little puzzling over this week's contest story and problem?

THE CONTEST STORY

"Twenty-five to nine," said No. 677.

"Of course," said No. 81. "That was the time the crime was committed."

"Not so fast, boys," said Detective Sureluck. "The hand pointing to the nine is perfectly level, as I remarked before. If it were the small hand, as you suggest, it would be about half way between the eight and nine. Or the big hand would be pointing to the 12."

"Clearly it is the big hand pointing to the nine," he went on. "And the small hand points between where the six and seven should be."

"The commotion in this room occurred at 6.45 o'clock. It was probably then that our friend received the fatal blows."

Detective Sureluck turned his attention to the other drawers. The third seemed to contain nothing but bundles of letters.

"We may be interested in those letters later," he commented.

"The fourth drawer was empty except for a newspaper clipping, which Detective Sureluck looked at peculiarly."

"A senseless sort of thing," he said. "Note the strange change in the date line. The original date is changed to a seven. Seven seems to be a recurring figure around here. I wonder if this clipping could have any meaning?"

The item read as follows: "It lived year 1940-41, the total from the United Kingdom was 67 as compared with 51 during the previous year when hostilities were getting under way.

"Peculiar," said Detective Sureluck. "I can't help thinking that there is information there for us if we could only read it. What does that seven mean. Is it the key? Should we read every seventh word?"

Detective Sureluck sat down to decipher the strange newspaper clipping.

What was the message?

QUEENSVILLE Scarcity Of Blooms On Decoration Day Noted

The Women's Missionary Society of the United church met at the home of Mrs. George Cole and a very pleasant time was spent. The meeting was conducted by Mrs. Hugh Shannon, who also gave a most interesting paper, illustrated by a map. Readings were also given bearing on this subject by Mrs. Aylward, Mrs. Norris, Mrs. Penfield, Mrs. E. Smith and Mrs. Angus Smith and a paper on "Friendship with flowers" was read by Mrs. Sydney Thompson.

Mrs. George Cole served refreshments and two lovely old friendship hymns were sung at the close of the meeting.

Dan Moore left last week to take a position in defence work at the airport in Newfoundland.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Pratt and three small daughters of Oshawa and Mr. L. Irwin of Newmarket spent Sunday at Moorefields.

A large number of people attended Decoration Day services last Sunday at the cemetery here.

Several remarked on the scarcity of flowers. If it could be arranged to hold this service a week or two earlier, it is felt there would not be a shortage of flowers.

Rain is badly needed in this vicinity.

Mr. Ray Waite and family moved to the village on Saturday to spend the summer.

Frank Kavanagh is giving his house a coat of paint, which greatly improves its appearance.

Miss Luva Lewis spent a few days with her mother last week, on route from New York to Saskatoon, where she is teaching in a summer school.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Glover of Ravenshoe spent Sunday at Mr. E. Stickwoods.

Mr. Luck and family of Barrie paid a call on Mrs. J. J. Terry on Sunday.

Mrs. Minnie Arnold, who underwent a successful operation at York county hospital recently, is convalescing at the home of her sister, Mrs. Fred Glover, Newmarket.

Elmhurst Beach

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Maw on their marriage last Saturday in Keswick United church.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Everingham and son from the west have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Bruce McMillan.

Quite a number from the community were at the decoration at Queensville cemetery on Sunday.

The sympathy of the community is extended to Mrs. Walter Hirst in the loss of her brother, Henry Shaw, of Sutton, who passed away last Saturday after a lengthy illness.

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Sedore on the birth of a son.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Armitage of Markham visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ike Waldon last week.

Frank Andrews has been quite ill. Friends wish him a speedy recovery.

The July meeting of the Elmhurst Beach Women's Institute will be held at the home of Mrs. Coulson Cameron on the evening of Thursday, July 10, at 7.30 o'clock, S.T.

The date has been changed to Thursday night owing to the regular day being the occasion of the United church garden party at Keswick.

Mrs. Perry Winch of Belhaven will address the meeting on temperance. Other items of interest will be on the program and it is hoped as many ladies as possible will attend.

Keswick

On Sunday the services at Keswick United church will be conducted by the minister, Rev. Gordon Lapp. The evening sermon subject will be "I Haven't Learned How to Pray." These sermons on Sunday evening on prayer are very helpful.

Last Sunday many were late for services owing to the change of time. The time is daylight saving time. The church school is at 10 a.m. in the morning, worship at 11 a.m., and the evening service at 8 p.m. These services will, as nearly as possible, be limited to one hour duration.

Arrangements have been completed for the big annual garden party, under the auspices of the United church W.A., on Wednesday, July 9. Supper will be served from 6 to 8 p.m., or till all are served, followed by an exceptionally fine program, including the Jackson 12-piece orchestra of Newmarket and Miss Betty Barron, contralto, Toronto.

A ventriloquist and other good talent will contribute to a fine evening's entertainment.

Visitors at the home of Mrs. Cecil Taylor during the week were Miss E. Pitt, Miss H. Rice, Miss A. Kerr and Miss J. Kerr.

Visitors at Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Morton's over Dominion day were Mr. and Mrs. David Davidson of Collingwood, Miss Neta Davidson and Mr. Roy Smalley of Toronto.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orville King over the weekend and holiday were Mr. and Mrs. Byron King of Toronto and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hodgkinson of Toronto.

Friends are pleased that Mr. Joel Sedore has recovered from his recent illness and is able to be out again.

Many attended the wedding of

NORTH GWILLIMBURY BRANCH COLLECTS $162 WORTH OF SALVAGE

The North Gwillimbury branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society asks everyone to remember the big Red Cross garden party to be held on the beautiful grounds surrounding the summer home of Mrs. L. A. Howard, Toronto, at Poplar Point, Keswick, on Thursday, July 17, afternoon and evening. Tea-cup reading, booths of all sorts, with lawn dancing in the evening, will be among the many attractions planned by the committee under the convensorship of W. Davison.

George White, convener of salvage for the North Gwillimbury Red Cross, announces almost $162 has been realized by the canvass already this summer.

Residents are asked to save all waste papers, rags, bones, etc., etc., everything but tin. It's all needed and everyone can help in this.

MAKE FAREWELL GIFT TO MINISTER

A number of the congregation of the United church gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Horner last Thursday evening to bid farewell to Rev. and Mrs. N. S. Anderson and family, who are moving this week to Stoney Creek. Mr. Anderson has been the pastor of the church for the past seven years. They were

MOUNT ALBERT
LODGE PLANS BIG
JULY 12 CELEBRATION

Fifty-one years ago on Jan. 15, 1890, Mount Albert Lodge Orange Lodge 902 became a reality, with Wor. Bro. Taylor, then county master, presiding.

Wor. Bro. Taylor of Aurora is at present recording secretary of the county lodge and has been for the past 36 years.

Fifty-one years ago there were no automobiles and one can imagine the trip Wor. Bro. Taylor would have from Aurora to Mount Albert and back that winter night. Upon arriving the hall was lighted, not by Hydro as now, but by lamplight. This service was paid for at the rate of ten cents per night.

At this first memorable meeting the following men joined by certificate, Joseph Swain, Wm. Reid, Sr., Thos. Gibney, Robt. Bain, Wm. Reid, Jr., John Rosamond, and Robt. Hayes and Joseph Hayes from No. 38, Ireland. John Moore, Francis McFarland and Geo. Arnold were initiated into 902.

At this meeting it was decided that L.O.L. 902 should hold their meeting the first Friday of each month. This custom is still adhered to.

At the end of 1890 there were 24 members. On July 12, 1891, this lodge received a lovely picture of her majesty, Queen Victoria, for being the best dressed lodge in the parade at Newmarket. They wore black trousers, white shirts and white vests. This picture still adorns the wall of the lodge room.

In 1891 an attempt was made to start a life and drum band. After 50 years this lodge has a promising boys' life band started. In 1906 an invitation to celebrate July 12 at Beaverton had to be refused, as the James Bay railway was not running in time. So the members went to Toronto, meeting at the local lodge room at 6.30 a.m.

July 12, 1913, saw a large celebration in Mount Albert. Twenty years later, in 1933, there was an even bigger celebration here. This year on July 12 the members are looking forward to the best celebration yet, in Mount Albert, with a large number of lodges attending their 51st anniversary. One of the attractions is a monster dance held at night in the park, with Geo. Wade and his orchestra in attendance.

The ladies have made two quilts with which they are raising money for the True Blue and Orange Home at Richmond Hill and for the war victims' fund.

The present county master is

Mrs. McGuire and children, of Kirkland Lake, and Dr. Jas. Hamilton of Geneva, N.Y., were visitors at the home of their mother, Mrs. J. Crowle, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Thompson and Edward, of Toronto, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. John Oliver.

Rev. R. V. Wilson is away attending the summer school at Sibbald's Point, Lake Simcoe.

Mr. Ernie Rolling was taken to the Toronto General hospital last week for observation and treatment.

H. G. Barnes presided at the entrance examinations held in the continuation school on Thursday and Friday, when 16 pupils from different schools around here wrote off their subjects.

Miss Marian Gibney of Holt will be the new teacher for the junior room in the public school in September, in place of Miss Dike, who resigned.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben. Oldham left for their home at Irma, Sask., on Monday, after visiting relatives in this community for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Dike's young baby accidentally slipped off the couch and broke its leg and had to be taken to the hospital for treatment.

Mrs. Geo. Price upset a teapot of hot tea on Sunday and scalded herself rather badly, but is able to get around.

Mr. Ira Morton is slowly recovering from his operation, performed in the Toronto General hospital.

Mrs. M. Mainprize attended the funeral of her brother, Mr. Henry Shaw, of Ravenshoe, on Sunday afternoon at his home, and at Queensville cemetery.

Rain is needed badly in these parts now.

Farmers have most of their hay in and it was grand weather for that crop and it has turned out a very good one, considering how little rain there has been.

Miss Rogers, R.N., of Newmarket, was a visitor this week at the home of her brother, Mr.

Chas. Rogers. Miss Ione Sinclair, R.N., of Barrie, is spending a month with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Sinclair.

Mrs. Harold Kurtz and children are spending the summer holidays at their cottage at North Bay.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Oldham of London have been holidaying with Mr. Oldham's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stan. Oldham.

Several members of L.O.L. 902 visited the Orange lodge of Aurora last Thursday evening. It was the official visit of the county lodge.

Two carloads of L.O.L. 902 members attended the county Orange church parade in Nobleton on Sunday evening to the Anglican church.

Mrs. Milton Gibney and Mrs. Roy Carr attended church parade of the Orange lodges at Nobleton on Sunday evening.

A number of L.O.L. 902 members visited the Island Grove Orange lodge on Monday night.

Mrs. Broad, Sr., is visiting her daughter, Mrs. C. Pegg, at Smithville.

Mr. Lorne Paisley is recovering nicely from an appendix operation in York county hospital.

Miss Doris Draper spent last week at Sarnia at the home of her brother, Mr. Harry Draper.

Miss E. Smith has returned from a visit with relatives at New Liskeard.

The district horticultural picnic is to be held at Springwater Park, Midhurst, on Wednesday, July 9.

Mr. and Mrs. Barnes and family spent the weekend at their cottage at Lake Simcoe.

Miss Daisy Watts and Miss B. Cook are spending their holidays at their homes in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben. Oldham left on Monday night to return to their home at Irma, Alberta.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dawson of Sudbury visited Mr. Dawson's mother, Mrs. H. Price, over the weekend.

Sunday, July 13, will be the annual decoration service of Mount Albert cemetery, at 2.30 p.m., E.S.T. A special program is being prepared.

Maple Hill

There was a good attendance at both services at Maple Hill church last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray and son, Irvine, of London, Ont., gave Maple Hill a surprise visit on Sunday, and gave the message at the church on Sunday evening.

Mr. Murray is the pastor and has charge of the services at the Indian reserve near London, where they are doing a faithful and successful work.

After the regular service on Sunday evening Mr. Addison, from the People's Mission, Toronto, showed moving pictures and gave a talk on his work in the slums of Toronto. Both services were much enjoyed.

The Dorcas society will meet next Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Roy Arnold. There will be a quilt to work on. All ladies are welcome.

The pastor, Mr. McAsh, is planning a summer school for the children every Wednesday morning, starting next Wednesday from 9.30 to 11.30, S.T. Children of any denomination are cordially invited.

A reunion of the Deavitt family was held at the home of Mrs. E. Deavitt last Saturday.

HEARS OWN HISTORY

the gathering and expressed the pleasure of his sisters and himself in having so many gathered at the first family reunion. To Mrs. Margaret Currie and Mrs. Felix Smelser fell the honor of cutting the anniversary cake, bearing the inscription, "MacMurphy 1849-1941." A moment's silence was observed in memory of members who have passed on.

Short, happy speeches were made by Dr. Helen MacMurphy, Toronto, Mrs. J. N. Foote, Collingwood, Miss Sarah MacMurphy, Chatham, Mrs. Felix Smelser, Bradford, Mrs. Margaret Currie, Regina, Norman MacMurphy, King, Norman Archie MacMurphy, Toronto, Miss Ruth MacMurphy, Collingwood, and Charles Archibald, King, a man of 88 years of age who has been a neighbor of the family for many years.

Miss Eunice MacMurphy delighted the gathering with her singing of "The Road to the Isles," and following the warm applause accorded her sang another Hebridean song. Later in the evening the hearts of these good Scottish people were made glad with the music of the pipes.

The highlight of the afternoon was a review of the family's history by Miss Bessie MacMurphy of Toronto, who made this interesting throughout with many little human and humorous incidents which go to make family life really enjoyable.

In 1840 Thomas MacMurphy and his wife, Mary Blue, came to Canada with eight of their sons, John, Alexander, Thomas, Hugh, Charles, Dugald, Neil and Malcolm. Two sons, Archibald and Donald, had come to Canada a few years previously and Norman came in 1842 with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John MacMurphy. One daughter, Annabella, died when quite young.

The family settled in different parts of the province, six brothers hewing out farms in King township, one in Collingwood township, one in Nottawasaga township, two at Erin and one at Lindsay.

The generations which have followed have taken up many lines of work and have been successful in many fields. That they have been good farmers is evidenced in the many fine farms yet being operated. Others have become teachers, lawyers, engineers, doctors and writers. Not only have the men of the family been successful ful, The women, following in the footsteps of their ancestor, Mary Blue, have left no stone unturned to give of their best to the good of mankind. One of the most outstanding has been Dr. Helen MacMurphy, who has occupied quite a prominent place in the field of Canadian medicine for many years.

Miss MacMurphy told many interesting facts regarding the early history of the family, many of these having been secured through official records in Scotland. There were no letters, pictures or diaries available and her story had been built from the records and stories told by older members of the family.

The MacMurphy family had sprung from the Macdonald clan and the name MacMurphy had originated in the marriage of a member of the Macdonald clan and a member of the Murdoch clan. The family coat of arms was described, with its falcon and star and the motto "Domulus Providit." God will provide. Their Scottish home was in the highlands of Argyllshire, in the parish of Stewartville, by the ocean at Rhonchan Bay.

Thomas MacMurphy was born in 1758 in the parish of Kilconnell, a son of Alexander MacMurphy. His wife, Mary Blue, a daughter of James Blue and Mary McSheehan, was born at Campbellton. They were married in 1872. Like scores of Scottish people they did not own their farm, but were renters. Stories were told of fortunes to be made in Canada and eager to make progress in the world they came to this new country as told earlier in this account. Norman, one of their twin sons, remained behind with his uncle and aunt, John MacMurphy and Grace Blue, the late.

In 1840, probably early in the year, Thomas MacMurphy and his family, and a group of 70 people, left their native Scotland, sailing away from Greenock for their new home.

They probably landed at Quebec or Montreal and the trip to King must have been one that required great endurance, their destination being some 800 miles from the landing point. Records show that there were only dirt roads and mail coaches. Oxcarts were one mode of transportation and possibly a great part of the trip was made on foot. They settled in the unbroken forests of Vaughan and King townships, where they hewed homes out of logs and settled to the hardy life which needs must go with pioneering. As the sons of this family grew to manhood they acquired homes of their own and with the years scattered to many parts of the province.

That they have been good citizens is shown in the active part many of them have taken in the municipal life of their respective localities. In King township members of the families have given some 50 years in municipal life, Alexander MacMurphy was reeve of his township for 17 years and warden of York county. His son, Norman MacMurphy, was in public life for eight years, he, too, occupying the reeve's chair and Thomas MacMurphy, at whose home the gathering was held, is now serving his third term as reeve, this following several years in other positions on the township council. The late Thomas MacMurphy held positions of importance in Collingwood township for several years.

ance in Collingwood township for several years.

During the Fenian raids of 1860 members of the family rallied to the support of the cause. In 1914-1918 Dr. A. MacMurphy and his son, of North Bay, played their part in the defence of the British empire. Murtry C. Hall and Miss Bessie MacMurphy took their part as well and gave their services to their country. In the present war Bruce Finlay MacMurphy, after being in the Canadian army for one year, is now taking a pilot's course with the Royal Canadian Air Force at St. Hubert, Quebec.

In church life the family has played its part. Rev. John MacMurphy was one of the brothers who came to this country in 1840. Many men of the family have served as elders and in other positions in their respective churches. The women too have given their share and Miss Bessie MacMurphy of Toronto has for many years been most prominent in the work of the Presbyterian Women's Missionary Society. Still another Miss Bessie MacMurphy of Collingwood, serves as a missionary nurse at Jobat in Central India.

Miss MacMurphy paid tribute to the many fine qualities which must have been characteristics of Thomas MacMurphy and Mary Blue. They were hardy pioneers and gave their all to make comfortable homes for those they loved and the generations which would come. As one looked about the fine farm on which these descendants gathered on Saturday it was an easy task to see the family motto, "God will provide," has been true throughout the years.
